About Hybrid School Program

Our hybrid school is thoughtfully designed to support online and homeschool students by providing a safe, structured environment where they can connect with peers who are also pursuing nontraditional education paths.

Meeting two times a week for 37 weeks, students can participate in a variety of enriching elective classes such as Bible, PE, and life skills, as well as academic tutoring in areas like math. While parents remain the primary educators—responsible for overseeing their child’s academic progress and ensuring compliance with local homeschooling or online school requirements—we partner with them to offer meaningful support.

Our program enhances the homeschool experience by offering non-core electives, clubs like yearbook and Bible memorization, and a welcoming community that fosters social and personal growth. Students receive grades in elective courses based on their demonstrated mastery of the curriculum, and we provide regular feedback to parents as needed. Ultimately, our hybrid model exists to complement and support each family's educational goals by offering a balanced blend of academic support, personal development, and community engagement.
